The College

The Silapathar College was established in 1979 as a result of concerted efforts made by generous local public who were led by a group of academically ambitious leaders. It is the second oldest college in the district of Dhemaji. The history of establishment of institutions for higher learning in the district of Dhemaji, in fact, began with the inception of Dhemaji College followed by Silapathar College. It is located in the heart of the rapidly growing small township of Silapathar which is surrounded by villages of tribal and backward communities. Thus, the college pledges to underline its target groups at the young men and women belonging to economically poor and socially excluded section of the society. The college, thus, established with the goal of spreading the web of higher education in geographically northern Assam, has been endlessly attempting to provide quality education to the young generation. The world is undergoing rapid changes in every perceivable aspect and as such the college believes that the need of the hour is to create human resource that is able to keep track with latest developments in academics by develop a humanitarian outlook as well. The college understands that the major life blood of any educational institution is the teaching-learning process. Without dedicated and well trained teachers and enthusiastic students the process can never be interesting and fruitful.

The institution is permanently affiliated to the Dibrugarh University. It was brought under deficit system of grant-in-aid in 1992 and was subsequently provincialised in 2005 by the Government of Assam. The college registered under 2(f) and 12(b) of UGC Act 1956 was first accredited by NAAC in 2005 with 'B' Grade. It applied for Re-accreditation and accordingly, the college was accredited and awarded Grade with 2.62 points (CGPA) in the month of November, 2015
